

NO SEX PLEASE

NO sex please, we're lawyers.

That would seem to be the message after Brisbane legal eagle Matthew Burgess enjoyed his own little 50 Shades of Grey moment.

It seems Burgess's recent book on trusts and estate planning, Collection of Inside Stories, was available under Amazon's "adult section" near the listing for the X-rated bestseller.

That, of course, lead readers to believe the Burgess book was some kind of salacious insider's account of sex and scandal in the legal industry.

The online mistake was corrected after complaints to Amazon and a few rude texts to Burgess – but sales have dwindled to nothing since then. More proof that lack of sex doesn't sell!
